

Creating a userpage

After logging in, locate your username in the upper right corner of your screen. It will appear between a link to “New features” and “My talk,” and will have a person icon beside it.

Take me back New features Charlottesweb28 My talk My preferences My watchlist My contributions Log out

Click on your red username. You’ll be redirected to a page titled “User:YourUsernameHere.” On this new page, click the link that says “Start the User:YourUsernameHere page” in the first bullet in the top box.

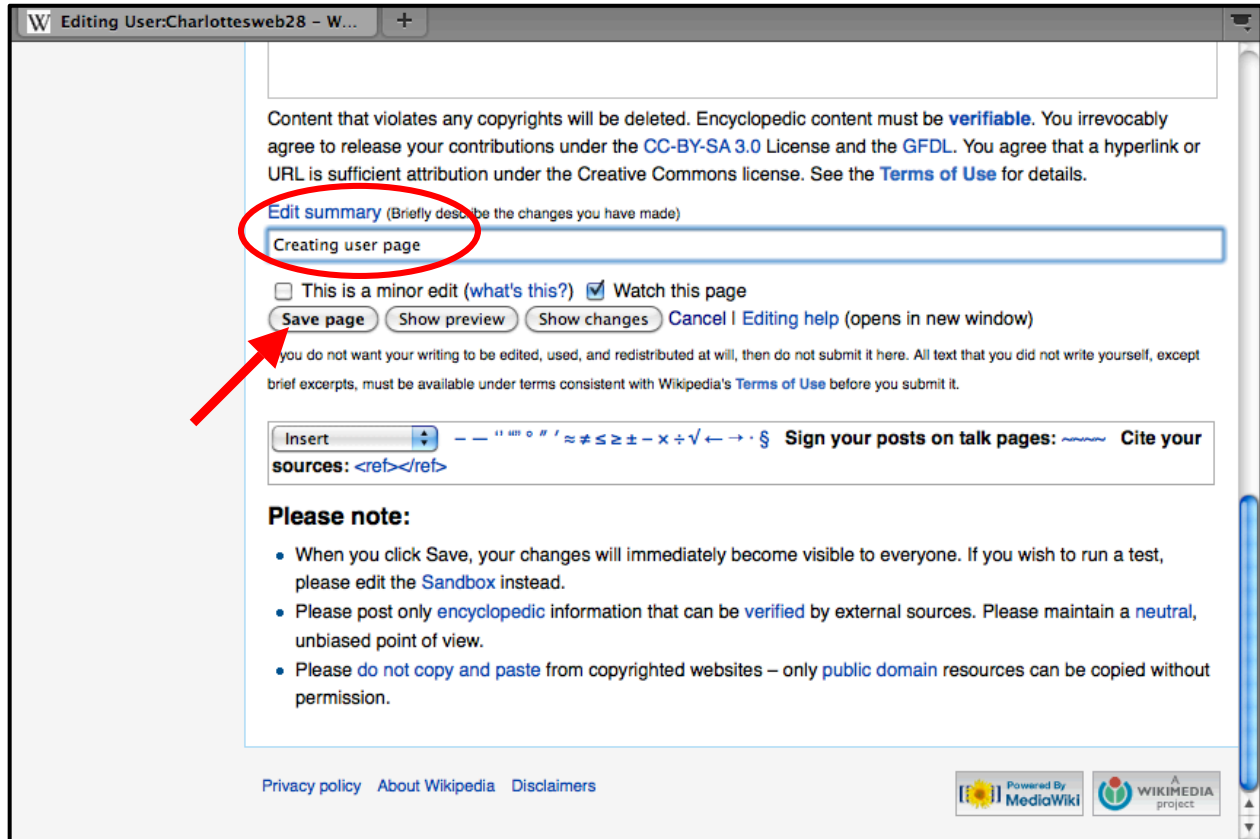

The screenshot shows the Wikipedia user page for 'User:Charlottesweb28'. The page title is 'User:Charlottesweb28' and it includes a search bar and navigation links. The main content area contains a message: 'Wikipedia does not have a user page with this exact name. In general, this page should be created and edited by User:Charlottesweb28. If in doubt, please verify that "Charlottesweb28" exists.' Below this message is a list of instructions, with the first bullet point, 'Start the User:Charlottesweb28 page', circled in red. Other reasons for the message being displayed are listed below, including page creation delays, case sensitivity, and deletion logs.

A new page will open, called “Editing User:YourUsernameHere.” Beneath the title you’ll see a blank white space – this is the Wikipedia text editor. Go ahead and type something in the editor.

The screenshot shows the Wikipedia editing interface for the user page "User:Charlottesweb28". The browser title is "Editing User:Charlottesweb28 - W...". The page features a navigation bar with links like "Take me back", "New features", and user-specific links for "Charlottesweb28". The main content area is titled "Editing User:Charlottesweb28" and includes a message: "Wikipedia does not have a user page with this exact title. In general, this page should be created and edited by User:Charlottesweb28. To start a page called User:Charlottesweb28, type in the box below. When you are done, preview the page to check for errors and then save it." Below this message is a text editor with a toolbar containing bold (B), italic (I), and other formatting options. The editor area contains the text "Enter text here." in red. The left sidebar contains the Wikipedia logo and a list of navigation links such as "Main page", "Contents", and "Interaction".

Scroll down on the same page. In the box labeled “Edit Summary,” type “creating user page.” To save your changes, click the “Save page” button.

Congratulations! You’ve just created your userpage.